Waiting my turn

Reader Notes:

These stories have been designed to help children learn about school so they know what to expect and can learn positive ways to respond to new situations. As a teacher, parent or carer you can help your child by reading through the stories. You could point out how the child's school experience is different and similar to that in the story and come up with other positive ways to respond. We hope these stories can make children feel more confident, safe and accepted at school.

At school there are lots of kids
in my class.

If all the kids speak at the same time it's hard for the teacher to hear.

When our teacher asks a question, I can put up my hand and wait until it's my turn to speak.

If we all wait and raise our hands, we can all be heard.

I can also wait for my turn at playtime.

Like when there are lots
of kids on the monkey
bars, I might need to wait
my turn to swing across.

If I wait for my turn,
we can all play safely
and have fun.

Sometimes I may have to wait a little while for my turn.

It can be hard to wait.

When I'm waiting I can take some slow deep breaths. I can practise
my counting.

I can try to be patient.

I will try and wait
for my turn.

We can all have fun
at school when we wait our turn.
